GO TO COLLEGE

1918-1919

“When you go to College you are not running away from the war; you are moving toward it in the most effective way. You are going where the government wants you, and on your skill may some day hang the issue of success or failure.”

PRESIDENT WILSON says: “I would particularly urge young people leaving our high schools that they avail themselves of the opportunities offered by the colleges and technical schools, to the end that the country may not lack an adequate supply of trained men and women.”

INTRODUCTORY

The aim of this work is to give a complete and accurate index to the public and private educational system of the United States. The information has been thoroughly revised and brought down to date, and before final printing of the book proofs submitted to the various school officials for final revision and correction.

In the main geographical classification, in addition to the public school officials, will be found a complete list of all schools and colleges, together with information as to the kind of school, class of students admitted, religious denomination, year established, and the name of the head of the institution. A second complete list of all schools is given in which they are classified and arranged according to the kind of school, giving a ready reference or complete list of any particular class of school. A complete Alphabetical Index of schools will be found at the back of the book from which any institution may be instantly located. The Public School system is fully covered by lists of the State Educational Officials and County Superintendents of schools, the Boards of Education, City Superintendents, Special Supervisors and Principals. A list of the more prominent libraries, with the name of the librarian and number of bound volumes, is also given. It is believed the work will be found of value to every one in any way associated with educational institutions, or engaged in educational work.

Acknowledgment is made to the various State and City Superintendents of Public Instruction, private school officials, librarians and others for their kind co-operation and assistance in furnishing data and information necessary for the completion of the volume. While no labor has been spared in the effort to have the work as accurate as possible at the time of going to press, continual changes necessarily preclude absolute accuracy.

School officials, librarians and others will confer a favor by notifying us of changes, and by calling our attention to any inaccuracies or omissions in any department of the work.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS OF SCHOOLS

Maine has no county superintendents of schools, but has what is known as the "Union Systems" of school supervision. The towns and cities of the state, of which there are 520, are combined into groups by the State Superintendent of Public Schools, and the members of the school committees of the towns in these groups elect one person to serve as superintendent of schools of the group or union, devoting his whole time to that work. The only exception to this arrangement is in the case of towns or cities having more than fifty schools. These are allowed to elect a superintendent of schools to serve that town or city alone.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

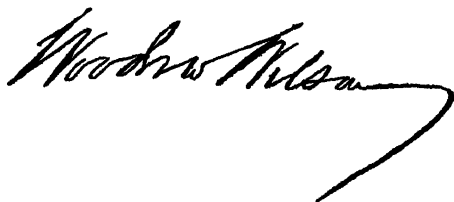

31 July, 1918

My dear Mr. Secretary:

I am pleased to know that despite the unusual burdens imposed upon our people by the war they have maintained their schools and other agencies of education so nearly at their normal efficiency. That this should be continued throughout the war and that, in so far as the draft law will permit, there should be no falling off in attendance in elementary schools, high schools or colleges is a matter of the very greatest importance, affecting both our strength in war and our national welfare and efficiency when the war is over. So long as the war continues there will be constant need of very large numbers of men and women of the highest and most thorough training for war service in many lines. After the war there will be urgent need not only for trained leadership in all lines of industrial, commercial, social and civic life, but for a very high average of intelligence and preparation on the part of all the people. I would therefore urge that the people continue to give generous support to their schools of all grades and that the schools adjust themselves as wisely as possible to the new conditions to the end that no boy or girl shall have less opportunity for education because of the war and that the Nation may be strengthened as it can only be through the right education of all its people. I approve most heartily your plans for making through the Bureau of Education a comprehensive campaign for the support of the schools and for the maintenance of attendance upon them, and trust that you may have the cooperation in this work of the American Council of Education.

Cordially and sincerely yours,

A large, stylized handwritten signature in dark ink, which appears to read "Woodrow Wilson". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long, sweeping tail that extends to the right.

Hon. Franklin K. Lane,
Secretary of the Interior.

La Salle Extension University Trains for Executive Work

Business today calls for the leadership of trained men. There is an insistent demand for expert accountants, auditors, comptrollers, business managers, banking experts, office managers, cost accountants, sales managers, traffic managers, interstate commerce experts, and business correspondents.

The late James J. Hill said: "There will never be too many trained executives."

Capable people often need additional training of a distinctly practical character—something a little different from what they have had—before they find themselves.

The LaSalle training is thoro and practical. Each department is under the direction of a business or professional expert. The staff of instructors and administrators numbers many well-known authorities.

Business Administration:
Training for Official, Managerial, Sales, and Executive Positions in Business Under direction of William Bethke, A.M., formerly of University of Colorado.

FEDERAL FARM LOAN BONDS

FOR INVESTORS—LARGE AND SMALL

These bonds should command your attention

THEY bear five per cent interest, payable semiannually, May and November, and are exempt from all taxation—Federal, State, Municipal and local. The income from them is also exempt. Issued in denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000, in either coupon or registered form.

They are acceptable at par as security for all public deposits, and are legal investments under the laws of the United States and a majority of the States.

They are instrumentalities of the Government of the United States and protected from counterfeiting, the same as money.

Federal Farm Loan Bonds issued by the Federal Land Banks are secured, dollar for dollar, by the pledge of first mortgages on farm lands, cultivated by the owner, worth at least twice the amount of the mortgage. That is to say—$100,000 of Farm Loan Bonds have behind them $100,000 of mortgages which are first liens on at least $200,000 of farm lands. In addition to this security, the prompt payment of principal and interest is guaranteed by the capital of the issuing Bank ($900,000 to $1,500,000) and the joint liability of all 12 Federal Land Banks for every Bond issued by any one of their number.

All appraisements are made by Federal appraisers, and each loan is approved by the Federal Farm Loan Board at Washington.

The financing of the farmer is a great national task. Through Federal Farm Loan Bonds it is done with profit to the investor and for the upbuilding of the agricultural, financial, commercial and industrial power of the Nation.

Buy Federal Farm Loan Bonds from any one of the Federal Land Banks, located respectively at:

The Tome School for Boys

With its endowment of over two and a half million dollars, it can limit its enrollment to boys of high character. It has a faculty of unusual strength and size. It has created an unique type of school life. It can give much individual attention through its special tutors. Its graduates take high honors in the leading colleges and technical schools. Each boy has his own room. It has the most beautiful school buildings and grounds in America. It has one hundred and seventy-five acres, on which are a nine-hole golf course, five athletic fields, swimming pool, quarter-mile cinder track, tennis courts and batting cage. Its tuition of $700 would have to be fifty per cent greater were it not for its endowment.

The Lower School for Little Boys offers all the advantages of the Upper Forms with the special benefit of a separate dormitory and a separate organization.

James L. Hughes, Inspector of Schools, Toronto, Canada, says:

"THE WORLD BOOK should be of great value to Teachers and Pupils, and to parents who are comrades of their children, in promoting their development. It gives brief and definite answers to the many interesting problems that naturally arouse the child's interest in his daily life, in the home, and in the school; and it develops the alertness of the child's mind by answering his questions satisfactorily."

"Training Children

to a competent and ready use of the Dictionary and fixing the habit of consulting it, is one of the main duties that the school can perform for a student:" says Dr. Suzzallo, President of University of Washington, Seattle.
